

LEAGUE OF NATIONS TO SEND AID TO ARMENIA

League Council Is Summoned to Act at Once on Near East Problem.

BELIEVE U. S. WILL HELP

Delegates Express Hope That America Will Not Refuse
Its Aid.

By United Press Leased Wire
Geneva.—The league of nations today summoned the league council to take immediate steps to aid Armenia.
Voting unanimously for the first time, the assembly adopted the resolution presented by M. Rene Viviani of France, to which the Armenian question was referred to determine the scope of the league's action.

The action came after long debate
in the assembly's forenoon session.
The plan of M. La Fontaine of Belgium for the appointment of a committee of six to seek means of halting hostilities between Armenia and Turkish nationalists received strong support.

Lord Robert Cecil was one to approve the plan.

M. Viviani carried over from Saturday some of the deliberations that characterized the debate. His first proposition was that the council be summoned to reach an understanding immediately with all the great powers as to the strength of the armed force to be contributed by each for the purpose of saving Armenia.

Thinks U. S. Will Help.

Under the plan adopted, the committee of six is to be appointed to advise with the council in determining action.

Dr. Hansen, Norwegian explorer, declared during debate that 60,000 men
and an expenditure of $10,000,000
would be necessary to save Armenia.
He asserted he was convinced America would do her full share.

America was also referred to by Arthur Bilfour, who declared an economic blockade on the followers of Mustapha Kemal would be ridiculous.
Public opinion would have no effect
on the Kemalists, he said.

The first essential, he declared,
would be the finding of a mandatory power willing and able to act. America could have done this, he said, but it is now necessary to look elsewhere.
The council is convinced, he declared,
such a power cannot be found unless it is guaranteed against loss. He admitted to date financial appeals have not succeeded. He emphasized the importance of full support from every member state.

Membership Rules

During the discussion it was asserted while America has refused a mandate over Armenia, she has expressed willingness to send a fleet to aid the country.

Demands were made that telegraphic dispatches be sent all the powers asking steps be taken for Armenian assistance.

The league commission considering the admission of new members, adopted rules today directed at Germany and Russia.

It was decided that no state shall be admitted to the league until she has fulfilled the international obligations, has a responsible government capable of contracting engagements, has an organization warranting the league's belief that she is capable of carrying out her obligations and has exact frontiers.

The first of the rules was directed at Germany and the others at Russia.
The membership commission divided into three groups today
and appointed sub-committees considering of neighboring states to examine the petitions.

Send Troops to Vilna
Germany's protest last week against the assigning of mandates to her former colonies without permitting her a voice in their disposal was disconcerting to assembly leaders.

The demand arrived just as the council had reached a deadlock on the matter of organizing a mandate commission which was expected to distribute mandates as previously agreed by the allies.

Three thousand "international"
troops will be sent to Vilna immediately, it was announced today.

Spanish, French, Belgian and British soldiers will comprise the force to supervise a plebiscite to determine whether Vilna shall be Polish or Lithuanian.

Spanish cooperation was assured by Premier Dato who denied his country had refused to contribute troops to the expedition.

NO DEMOCRATS IN HARDING CABINET

of Party.

Aboard Steamship Parismina—(via elect Harding's cabinet will not be composed of republicans and will not be a coalition cabinet, according to opinion of persons close to Harding. The report that Senator Chamberlain, democrat, Oregon, would be named secretary of war, was declared to be unfounded, although Chamberlain is a close personal friend of the president-elect.

The Parismina, carrying Harding and his party on a pleasure trip to Panama, continued to sail through quiet, tropical seas today. At the present rate of speed, the destination will be reached early tomorrow.

A miniature copy of Harding's newspaper, the Marion Star, has been printed on the ship and distributed as a souvenir. Its news is that received by wireless each day.

Religious services were held Sunhymns on deck in the afternoon. At

Farmer Congressmen To Obliterate Party Lines

Western Members of Congress
Work Together to Aid
Food Producers.

(By L. C. Martin)
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Party lines are to be obliterated and forgotten by mid-western members of the house and senate
this winter in an effort to remedy
the situation which has stirred resentment among farmers and livestock raisers, it was learned here today.

Informal conferences held among republican and democratic senators from western states have resulted in a decision to hold a formal conference of all senators from western states soon after the December session begins, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, stated today.

At this conference a working program is to be mapped out, if possible,
for concerted action by shippers from farm and livestock states regardless of party, in the interests of the producers.

The first test of their strength is to be made on the Kenyon-Kendrick pact bill which will come before the senate as soon as it meets.

Hitchcock said today he and other democratic senators will support the bill energetically and will seek to amend it to reach some of the evils
the wheat and corn farmers are complaining of.

Senators hostile to any regulation of the packers are preparing to talk
the bill to death, but Hitchcock predicted they would have difficulty side-tracking the measure because of the strong support it will command.

"The farmers in the corn and wheat sections have been roused to great resentment," said Hitchcock, "because of conditions which have lowered prices to an extent that makes their future ruinous. Corn is selling at less than the cost of production and some corn farmers are threatening to burn it rather than buy coal. The farmers feel there is something wrong with the marketing system or control of the markets, and they demand that some corrective measures be taken."

"We westerners are going to try to get together regardless of party on measures in behalf of our constituency."

25 Drunks in Court

St. Paul.—Police announced 300 soft drinks parlor in the city were selling drinks with a "kick."

The S. D. P.'s did a rushing business yesterday. Twenty five drunks were in police court today—a new one day record since inauguration of what is termed prohibition.

50 Per Cent Drop.
Kansas City, Mo.—Hog prices reached a new low on the Kansas City market today. At the opening, losses of from 25 to 40 cents were recorded, the average sales being at $10.40 to $11.15.
This is a low for the last four years.

This is a break of $12.50 from the high mark of July, 1919—a drop of more than 50 per cent.

50 Cents Lower.
South St. Paul, Minn.—Hog prices dropped at the opening here today to a new low record since 1917. Early trading looked about 50 cents off from Saturday.

Heavy receipts and outside news
knocked prices below $11.

ASK HIGH COURT TO DROP ACTION AGAINST BERGER

Socialist's Attorney Wants Case
"Abated" Because the War Is Over.

Washington.—Victor L. Berger's attorney, Seymour Steadman, filed a brief with the supreme court today asking dismissal of the government's suit against the Milwaukee socialist for violation of the espionage act.

The brief contends that the United States is not now at war with Germany and therefore prosecution should be "abated."

The court today agreed to advance to January third the arguments on the appeal of Senator Truman H.
Newberry, from his conviction by a Michigan federal court on charges of violating the federal corrupt practices act during his senatorial campaign.

Advance Hearing
The federal government and the Coronado Beach company joined in a motion asking the supreme court to advance arguments on cases growing out of the seizure of north island, in the harbor of San Diego, Calif., for an aviation base.

The company was awarded $50,000
for the island by a jury decision from which the government appealed.

Interest in the award has amounted to $1,000,000 since the island was taken, August, 1917, the brief states.

Reargument of the recent order of the supreme court by which Julius W.
"Nicky" Arnstein was released on bail was asked of the court today, by Henry A. Goldersleeve, trustees in bankruptcy in the case.

London.—Spread of assassinations to large bodies of troops were reported

mined action by the government to suppress further outbreaks. Punishment for leaders of the raids was urged. At the same time there was criticism of the government for its policy of "condoning" police reprisals and "thus permitting outrages of this nature to occur."

tion, declaring the empire is endangered. Stern and unrelenting vindic-tion of the empire's laws was de-

ment's shifty policy, "which cannot is the result. It is the culmination of worklessness on both sides.

Press Blames Officials for Per-

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—The house of commons suspended its sessions today in an uproar growing out of discussion of the Dublin murders.

Joseph Devlin, Irish leader, was the center of the disturbance. After firing a number of questions at Premier Lloyd George, he repeated attempts to pull him back into his seat. Others joined in the scuffling and the sitting was suspended in confusion.

The premier had been asked by another member if he was willing to
"ask commons for permission to shoot
every member of the Sinn Fein murder gang," who should be caught.

Lloyd George replied that he believed the authorities would gradually control the situation but that he would not hesitate to ask additional powers
if he thought it necessary.

Devlin made several attempts to gain the floor while the premier talked. Other members howled him down. He managed finally to ask why the premier had not mentioned "the massacre" on the football field.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, answered for the premier that no question had been asked regarding the Croke Park shootings and panic.

Devlin kept his foot, demanding the floor, and four other members who tried to pull him down. The sitting was then suspended.

MARSHAL LAW IS ORDERED IN DUBLIN

Four men recently has resulted in the compilation of a great mass of documents and the raids were believed to have been conducted to regain some of that evidence as well as discourage further activity.

Fifteen men held up the Gresham hotel staff. Some of the men examined the register while others covered visitors and clerks with revolvers.

A porter was compelled to guide the men to the rooms of the victims.

Captain MacCormack was surprised reading in bed. His wife was standing nearby. The captain was shot. The men rushed to the room of Captain L. A. Wilde where four shots were fired. They left Wilde dead on the floor.

In lower Baggott street, the doors to Captain Newbury's flat were forced open and raiders filled the room. Newbury flung off two attackers and leaped for a window but a bullet stopped him and as the ten men departed the captain's body hung limply over the ledge. His wife stood by during the shooting.

Mrs. Newbury said the men wore no disguises and they appeared to be between 20 and 30 years of age. They did not search her apartment.

In Pembroke streets a gang met Major Dowling and Captain Price as they were leaving their bedrooms. They were shot as they stood in the doorway. Three officers in the party were wounded.

Choir Supper
The choir of St. Joseph church is to be entertained at supper at 6:30 o'clock on Monday evening. A social session will follow.

In Mount street, Lieutenants Ames and Bennett were roughly treated before dragged from their homes and shot. Similar methods were employed in the murder of Captain McLean and two judiciary officers in his apartment. The raids were carried out shortly after nine o'clock. The murder parties quietly left the houses and mingled with the crowds on the street.

Police captured three men alleged to have taken active part in the raids and a number of suspects were taken later.

in a way that has never been presented to a local audience before.

A packed house is expected for the meeting of men and young men, 17 years and over, at Lawrence Memorial chapel in the evening. His address, "A Father's Responsibility to His Son," is regarded as a red-blooded message to red-blooded men. It is the sort of message that is heard but once in a city, and that is when Dr. Barker comes to deliver it. His forceful personality and straightforward manner of speaking is embodied in the message he brings.

The Rotary club will hold its usual meeting Tuesday noon at the Y. M. C. A. No one will know what the program is to be until the meeting is started. It is one of the special surprise programs planned by the club.

ST. JOSEPH MIXED CHOIR SINGS SACRED CANTATA

Bad weather cut down the attendance at the sacred cantata, "Nature's God," presented by the mixed choir of St. Joseph church Sunday evening.

The production was under the direction of A. J. Theiss, choir director.

Solos were presented by Marie Schommer, soprano; Hildegard Glueckstein, alto; Anton Koehne, tenor; Joseph Roemer, baritone.

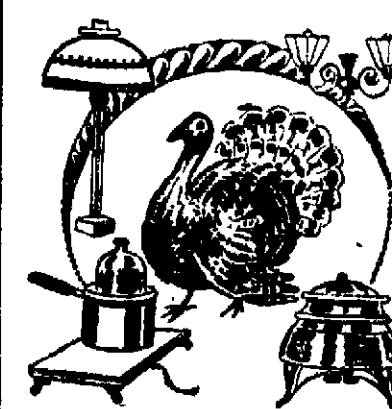

The double quartet, which was one of the features of the cantata, consisted of Marie Schommer and Celia Kamp, sopranos; Hildegard Glueckstein and Anna Fuhrman, altos; Henry Griesbach and John Peters, tenors; Peter Jacobs and Arthur Stumpf, basses.

Thanksgiving Poultry

Extreme care should be exercised in the purchase of your Thanksgiving Poultry. The weather has been very poor poultry weather the past week and a great many of the dealers have had to ship in their supply from the outside which necessitated killing early in the week, which means poor stock, and will be sold cheap, because of its condition. Our poultry is being killed today and before buying, we want you to compare our quality with those offered for less money.

Home-Dressed Poultry

Raised in Outagamie County

We have today received 1,000 Geese, 500 Ducks, 500 Turkeys and 2,000 Chickens. This Poultry is all of the very best quality—corn and milk-fed.

All of our Poultry have intestines drawn when killed and heads off and are going to be sold at prices that will appeal to you.

A Tip to the Economical Housewife: There are Turkeys, Geese and Ducks appearing on the market with intestines not drawn. You will find it much better to buy those that are drawn immediately when killed and not have them lay around for two or three days with filthy intestines in them.

Contagion.

The city is again free from smallpox, the second patient at Brokaw hall having been released from quarantine Monday morning. The only contagion now in the city is three cases of scarlet fever and one of diphtheria.

On account of the great number of diphtheria cases thruout Wisconsin, the state health department has sent out a circular warning citizens to guard against the disease and to isolate children as soon as they have sore throat, one of the early symptoms.

Appleton people are advised to take special precaution against the disease as several cases are reported at Little Chicago and near Kimberly.

DUROC JERSEY SALE IS TO BE HELD JANUARY 11

January 11, 1921 is the date set by the Duroc Jersey Breeders association for its sale of pure bred hogs, as a result of action taken at the association meeting Thursday evening at the court house.

The place of the sale is left open, because the chamber of commerce volunteered its services in providing a suitable location somewhere in Appleton. The board of directors pledged its hearty cooperation at its meeting last Tuesday, assuring the association that the chamber was anxious to do anything within its power to make the sale a success.

About 30 pure bred Duroc Jersey gilts will be offered at the sale. O. P. Cuff, Hortonville, has been appointed sales manager, and will arrange for a selection from some of the best pens in this locality.

URGE BREEDERS TO GO TO WEYAUWEGA AUCTION

One hundred letters have been sent out by the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders association in an effort to secure a large representation of members at a pure bred Holstein sale to be conducted by the Wauwauqua county association Wednesday at Weyauwega.

A special selection of black and whites totalling 40 head will be offered at auction, consigned by Wauwauqua's leading breeders. It will give farmers of this locality an opportunity to purchase their first pure bred cattle from a choice lot, or to supplement present herds with cows of a quality type.

The Outagamie association is pushing the sale because it is possibly the only one planned for the fall season that will be within such convenient distance. A number of automobile loads of buyers will probably make the trip Wednesday morning by way of state highway No. 18.

HOOVER MAY GET LABOR JOB IN HARDING CABINET

Washington—Herbert Hoover within the last week has come to the front as one of the "possibilities" for the post of secretary of labor in the cabinet of President-elect Harding, political observers here believed.

Unusual significance was attached to the former administrator's recent conference on the industrial situation with the executive council of the American Federation of Labor and to a speech he made before the Federation of Engineering societies outlining his views for ending the conflict between labor and capital.

MEXICAN MINERS WANT 100 PER CENT PAY BOOST

By United Press Leased Wire
Eagle Pass, Texas.—Striking miners in the coal regions of Coahuila, Mexico, have refused to return the mines to the owners on the terms offered by the government. It was learned here today.

The men are holding out for 100 per cent increase in wages, according to the Mexican Consul Tamez.

Whether the mines are to be operated for the benefit of the miners who wish to return to work is now entirely up to the government, it was reported.

Saucy style and dainty charm—with utmost
comfort

Smart enough for any occasion is this very charming model—the "Blenheim." It has the slender, graceful lines so admired by women who know and recognize the more subtle points of style. It does what so few shoes can really do—gives the trim lines and slender shapeliness that make the foot look smaller. But appearance is only half of the charm of this black kid model.

Comfort—that other shoe essential so seldom linked with style, is just as truly a part of it. Because it is made to fit the moving foot, it is a joy to wear from the first step.

Welcome, indeed, is the "Blenheim" in any woman's wardrobe.

Thanksgiving:

To give thanks in earnest is a beautiful thing to do. But to give it, and in return we do nothing for which to be thankful, is the highest form of hypocrisy.

That is something which we strive always to avoid. Sometimes there are occasions when one's patience is worn to a thread. But it is things of this sort which makes for betterment and for our part, we are glad of it.

For since last Thanksgiving Day, there have been many obstacles to surmount. Good merchandise has been scarce. Prices have been high. Besides other things which have tested the mettle of every merchant.

Notwithstanding these things, our business has grown; the confidence the public has in this store and its personnel has increased. For these and other things we are very thankful.

THE SENIOR CLASS AUCTION

The High School senior class auction to be held Wednesday is a new departure here in educational training which should appeal to public support for two reasons. In the first place it will promote broader social understanding among our growing young men and young women, as well as a more sympathetic view toward our social problems and relationships. One of the great needs of the day is that our rising generations shall see the sides of life other than those of their limited environment and experiences. The public school is the effective agency for expanding this democratic viewpoint and the wider the angle we can bring it into play the better will be our future citizenship.

The senior class auction is well calculated to advance this end, because it introduces our boys and girls to an important phase of social economics at a time when lasting impressions are made. The more they know in youth about conditions of the poor and unfortunate the more they will unselfishly undertake in their behalf, and for the common betterment of all, when they grow up. The senior class auction represents the concrete expression of a desire by public school management to foster in the pupils the true community spirit, and it is evident that it will accomplish this in the degree that the auction is a success.

The other reason why the idea should appeal to public support is that it is a common sense method of applying charitable work. The proceeds of the auction are to be used in filling Thanksgiving baskets for the poor, and that is something we all want to see done in heaping measure. The money will be applied in co-operation with the City Relief Society, so that there will be no duplication. The pupils have enthusiastically joined in the undertaking, but this is only half the requirements. The public must supply the other half by coming forward with generous contributions of auctionable articles and with liberal patronage when the sales are made.

Every citizen of Appleton has an interest in the public schools and presumably desires to manifest that interest in a helpful way when the opportunity is offered. The senior class auction may seem like a relatively small matter to some, but that is not the case. It is a big thing to the public schools and whatever is of importance to them is of importance to the community at large. Let us give the school management and the senior class a full measure of assistance and cooperation in making this unique effort the success it ought to be.

REPARATION

The peace treaty provides that the allies shall notify Germany by May 1, 1921, of the total reparation claims against her. The treaty also says that before the claims are fixed, Germany shall be given "a just opportunity to be heard." France has now consented to recognize this part of the treaty to which the signatures of her representatives were affixed.

It is very late to begin the work of assessing Germany's capacity to pay. But France has opposed all previous efforts to start the inquiry. The French government has hoped against hope that the treaty pledge to Germany could be evaded, for it has been France's desire to assess no final indemnity amount, but to claim all of Germany's surplus production. No greater mistake could be made than to enforce such a policy. Germany must be permitted to reestablish herself economically. Indemnities which prevented this would be suicidal.

No other power supports France's desire to crush Germany economically. If, therefore, the French government can be held to its agreement less than six months will elapse before Germany knows the worst. By May 1st, Germany will have paid the allies in money, shipping, animals, coal and otherwise, five billion dollars, in accordance with the peace treaty terms. Thereafter, for thirty years, she must continue paying the new assessments which the allies are now to levy.

It will be a gigantic sum. But, whatever it is, it will be known to the Germans in advance. Germany will have the assurance that whatever she produces above the stipulated amount will be her own. There is reason to believe the German people have purposely refrained from making an effective effort at economic reconstruction to confuse the estimates of the allied experts concerning Germany's future capacity for production. But, once the indemnity is fixed, Germany can begin her real recovery. Next summer, therefore, should reveal Germany's true economic strength.

PASS BUDGET BILL

In all probability the present congress will transact very little real business in its final session, beginning in December. Its divided political complexion, its considerable content of "lame ducks" and its certainty of automatic death next March 4, militate against effective work. But there is one law it should pass promptly. This is the budget bill.

Both parties are pledged by their platforms to budget reform. President Wilson has urged it. He regretfully vetoed the bill passed last spring, because it provided that the comptroller-general in charge of accounting and auditing might be removed only by congress. This violated the constitutional provision under which all executive officials are appointed and removed by the president. The budget bill was corrected to remove this defect, and again passed the house. It failed of passage in the senate because of an eleven-hour filibuster, although a clear senate majority favored it.

In substance the bill provides that estimates from all departments of the government shall be reviewed, revised and consolidated by the secretary of the treasury, operating through a budget bureau closely and continuously studying the needs of the various departments. The budget thus prepared then goes to the president, who may reduce it to secure further economy or efficiency. He then submits it to congress, as a definite program for government operations and raising of necessary revenues.

Congress may increase the budget if it wishes, but will be less likely to make changes than at present. The budget will have back of it the strength of careful study, preparation and revision. Auditing, under the comptroller-general, would be entirely independent of the treasury and all other departments. The expiring congress can have no excuse for failure to pass this budget bill. Prompt action will save a year or two more of continued haphazard, wasteful expenditures. It will be the first step toward real economy in federal finances, and is a test of political sincerity which cannot be evaded.

All That I Can Do
BLOW

"Never mind the noisy hammer,
Though he makes a constant clamor,"
Said the anvil to the shoe.
"On my surface you are pounded,
On my back your oval's rounded;
It is I who fashion you."

"From Peersheba to Danville, None so lazy as the anvil,"
Said the hammer to the shoe.
"He just sits there daily, yearly,
While I work my head off, nearly,
Shaping hundreds such as you."

Said the long tongs to the furnace,
"By your ancestor, Avernus!
Listen to that boastful crew!
It is I who grasp and hold it,
Twist it, turn it, shape it, mold it,
It is I who make it—shoe."

Said the forge, "Aye, truly, truly,
All these rascals boast unduly,
Even, one might say, as you,
"By the way the iron is heated,
And repeated, and repeated,
Till, at last, I make the shoe."

Said the philosophic bellows,
"My congratulations, fellows!
All you say is doubtless so,
As for me, my dear contrary:
Eh! mihl misere!
All that I can do is—blow!"

THYROID TREATMENT RESTORES YOUTH
London.—Miss Connie Edise, actress here, had her "wim, vigor and vitality" increased with the thyroid treatment for restoring youth. "Feels like a red-hot poker under your skin," says she, "for a half hour and then you feel full of strength and energy."

It is said that a full-grown elephant can carry three tons on its back.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE RED NOSES

Here's a round robin from four amazing girls: "We four girls here in the market all have red, red noses. I had a piece in the paper ten or twenty years ago telling how to remove 'em—we are uncertain whether you said use a scissors or file 'em off. But we want to know, and just to show how much we love you we've put our noses together. Instead of writing you four tedious letters, and we are not saving a word about whiskey or rum, which is something we de'say you seldom encounter in letters from red-nosed readers."

Seldom? Bless you, children, it's the first time since 1892. Meat markets are usually chilly and young women perverse. On a hot, sweltering summer day they (the young women) sport furs, and on a bleak fall day they wear something like evening dress. This is absolutely hygienic, even if it does brighten up the nose. A young woman, like anyone else, may put on or leave off whatever she wishes, whenever she likes, provided she is perfectly comfortable. She may be comfortable under all circumstances if she will wear wool or wool and silk next the skin.

Wool and silk are slow heat conductors; cotton and linen are fast heat conductors. Wool or silk or both combined conserve the vasomotor function. There we go—always have to spoil good work by dragging in some utterly meaningless medical term. It merely betrays the writer's incapacity. Big words always do that.

The vasomotor portion of the involuntary nervous system with a controlling center in the brain, regulates the distribution of the blood. If these busy nerves sleep at the switch one would just freeze to death every time one went out doors on a cold day or indulged in a cool bath. They are the warming-up nerves, and also the cooling-off nerves, but the warming-up function is positive and the cooling-off is merely negative.

Think of the tremendous strain the so-called civilized, and particularly the mollycoddled life, places upon the vasomotor! Scores of times daily we plunge suddenly from a tank filled with respiratory fluid at a temperature of, say, seventy to seventy-five or even eighty degrees if we are badly cooled, out into the air at a temperature of 40 or 50 degrees. Then a little while suddenly back into the hot tank again, and so on ad infinitum. We need protection, not against cold, but against the terrific gymnastic strain on the vasomotor nerves. In wool or silk or both combined we have it in a form second only to the hairy coat we wore before we adopted the civilized or mollycoddled life.

Now, girls, do not throw the paper down in disgust. You needn't wear those famous flannels of grandpa's time. In fact, I warn you against any tightly woven material, the artificial skin or under-wear should be light and porous, like air or water proof. For example, so-called fleeced material is an abomination for anyone to wear. Wear 'em as light as you wish, but let 'em be wool or silk or both, and knitted, not woven. And stockings of similar material.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

St. Vitus' Dance

Should a girl, now twenty years old, who had St. Vitus' dance from the age of seven to the age of thirteen years, but has been all right since, marry? Would she be likely to go insane or to have feeble-minded children? (A. R.)

ANSWER—There is no reason why she should not marry, and no reason why she should ever go insane or bear defective children. St. Vitus' dance is an infectious condition, not a defect of the nervous system.

Lemon Juice

My husband has been told that lemon juice taken in large doses will cure rheumatism. Will it cause emaciation? Will it thin the blood? (Mrs. T. B.)

ANSWER—Your husband apparently enjoys fairy stories. Lemon juice will not cause emaciation or thin the blood, and probably will do no harm, though I know of no joint disease which it would be likely to cure.

Milk and—

Please tell me something one can take with milk so that the milk will not cause constipation. (L. M. S.)

ANSWER—Milk does not cause constipation. Take baked apples, wheat bran, whole wheat (as it comes from the threshing machine), or any fruit or undenatured cereal with the milk. The idea that milk is "binding" arises from the fact that an exclusive milk diet leaves little unabsorbed residue in the intestine.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Monday, Nov. 25, 1895

Three tramps who slept the previous night at the police station were sent out of town.

The ground was covered with several inches of snow and a cold wave indicated that winter had commenced.

The members of the Appleton Social Temple met at the home of D. B. Bailey and organized a Social Reading club.

A born belonging to August Russe of the town of Menasha was destroyed by fire together with its contents which consisted principally of hay.

Announcement was made of the approaching marriage of Oliver Artis of Appleton and Miss Carrie Reese of Fond du Lac.

A burglar entered the residence of John Botjensok the Saturday night previous, gaining entrance through the bath room window. He succeeded in making his escape with Mr. Botjensok's overcoat and a gold ring.

The membership of the League of American Wheelmen and Appleton Cycling club, 117, assured enough votes with those of Marinette to secure the state bicycle meet the following August.

The announced subject of the Rev. John Paville's sermon at the Congregational church the night previous was "Football Religion." The church was filled. Miss Alice Williams rendered a vocal solo.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Marshall entertained 100 friends in honor of the occupancy of their new residence on North street.

The memorial service at the Methodist church the night previous for the late Mrs. G. M. Steele were largely attended. Papers by Mrs. M. A. P. Stansbury and Mrs. M. R. Winslow were read.

MIGHT CONTRIBUTE THE NEXT DAY

Kansas City, Mo.—M. W. Todd was trying doors in the sixth floor of the Hotel Baltimore here when House Detective Al Johnson discovered him.

"What doing?" inquired Johnson, politely, at the same time grabbing Todd by the neck of his coat.

"Looking for a bird's-eye view of your town," a munny judge offered to let Todd enrich the public treasury by $200 if he was in town the next day.

FACES LIFE TERM BECAUSE OF BOOZE

Akron, O.—John Kruska faces life imprisonment because he was drunk. John used to live in a rooming house here. Six drinks of moonshine made John forget he no longer lived at the same house. He was caught wandering through the halls, convicted of burglarizing an inhabited dwelling, he'll draw life. The prosecutor recommends clemency.

The Mormons.

By Frederic J. Haskin.

Salt Lake City, Utah.—In these brisk days of newer and still newer cults and isms, when people change their religions almost as frequently as they do their spouses, it is rather surprising to find an old-time religion like Mormonism still attracting crowds of recruits to its beehive banner.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints now has a membership of 400,000 souls, and the number is increasing every week both by birth and by conversion.

Salt Lake City is full of Baháists, Yogists, Buddhists and adherents of many other strange sects, in addition to the usual variety of faiths, but none of these churches, it is said, has been able to compete with the spectacular increase of the Mormons. About 75 percent of the population of the state of Utah is now Mormon, and according to such infallible authorities as Mr. Irvin Cobb, the entire country from Canada to Mexico is filled with the loyal descendants of Brigham Young alone.

One reason for this increase is apparent at once. The Mormons do not believe in birth control. They put a premium on large families, and consequently Utah has more baby carriages than it has automobiles—Mormon baby carriages, with the Zion star mark on them. Many of them, moreover, are the two-passenger variety.

While baptism in the Mormon church is administered only to adults, the children are sent to Sunday school at an early age, and so impressed with its doctrines that they can nearly always be relied upon to grow up Mormons.

Add to these circumstances the fact that Mormon missionaries convert hundreds of persons to Mormonism every year, and you can see why the number of Latter Day Saints is so rapidly increasing.

How Missionaries Work.

Much as we prefer babies, we shall take up the question of the missionaries first. For the Mormon missionary system is extremely interesting. These enthusiastic proselytizers journey into all parts of the world, but principally to England and the Scandinavian countries, scattering the pearls of Mormon wisdom totally without the aid of money. At least, the church is said not to pay their expenses, and as many of the missionaries are known to be poor and to have large families to be supported at home, the thing remains curious unless you can explain it as the Mormons do—namely, that God takes care of the missionaries.

When a Mormon is called by the church to this duty, he obeys instantly, no matter how unexpected may be the summons or how unprepared his personal affairs. During the period of his service he receives no salary. In fact, it is said that no official of the church receives any salary. But upon his departure a last reception is given in honor of the missionary, to which all the members of his church are invited, and at which a collection plate is passed. The contents of the plate are expected to defray his traveling expenses, after which the matter is to be put up to God. Apparently God responds well to the responsibility thus thrust upon Him, for the Mormon missionaries are not short of money, and in a comfortable, if not luxurious way, have never been known to starve.

Another thing which may explain the sustained prosperity of the church is its splendid system of organization. Since the war, everybody knows how effectively organization steps in where enthusiasm fears to tread. Well, the cornerstone of the Mormon system of organization is the tithing system. Every Mormon is required to pay a certain percentage of his income to the church. It may be in farm produce or in dry goods or in hardware or in preferred stock, but it must be a tenth of his worldly goods. Each ward of the city contains a tithing house, presided over by a bishop, and on a specific date every month this house takes on the appearance of a country fair, as the faithful pour in with their varied contributions.

A Liberal Church.

The church organization also embraces a remarkably good system of recreation for its young people. The Mormons have a few prejudices concerning conduct. They are firmly opposed to swearing, drinking and smoking, and scarcely any of the Mormon males do these things; certainly none of the women. The women also, it is said, are forbidden that most precious vice of their sex—to gossip. Any Mormon man repeating scandal concerning her neighbors is in peril of being excommunicated. But, the church is not opposed to theatricals or dancing, and in connection with every meeting house or church there is a dance hall where dances are given two or three nights a week; each dance being opened with a prayer.

Thus the Mormons have had the great wisdom to keep up with the spirit of the times, or perhaps they have merely had the good fortune to have the spirit of the times catch up with them.

The church, according to Mormon history, had its origin in the burst of religious feeling which occurred in this country during the early nineteenth century. All of the various sects, it seems, were holding revival meetings—especially in New York and New England—each avowing heatedly that it was the chosen cult of God, denouncing all its rivals and claiming to be the sole heir of heaven. Joseph Smith, Jr., son of a hard-working farmer, went to each of these revival meetings and became greatly confused with their conflicting utterances, and finally prayed to the Lord to help him identify the correct faith.

The Vision of Smith.

Almost immediately Smith had a vision in which a Glorious Being informed him that all of the religious sects were wrong. After this Smith continued to have visions, each one of which became clearer and more authoritative. One revealed to him that the Mormon belief, which the Lord desired him to deliver to misguided mankind, was inscribed on several gold plates, buried under a hill about twenty-five miles from Rochester, N. Y., together with Urim and Thummim, the stone spectacles through which he would read and translate their hieroglyphics. The translation is said to have taken two or three years, at the end of which time the plates were returned to their guardian, the Angel Moroni, but not before they had been shown to eight witnesses, who later testified to having seen them.

Just before he died, Smith is said to have had his historic vision about polygamy, but it was Brigham Young who really introduced the innovation into the creed of the church. The Mormons no longer practice it, and it is frowned upon by the church.

The non-Mormons of the city, who admire and get along very well with the industrious Saints, tell you that polygamy was introduced in the pioneer days because the Mormons were then so few and the production of many offspring expedient. But this explanation is not in accordance with Mormon doctrine. In their belief polygamy was a divine command from God. The ancient Hebrews with their numerous wives were pleasing in the sight of the Lord, so why not his nineteenth century chosen children?

Polygamy certainly has a long and respectable history, and it has certainly enjoyed much unofficial vogue even when it has been officially frowned upon. First polygamy in a desirable way in Utah. The first of polygamy that raged around it once have long since buried out. The Mormons are no longer polygamous, but they are still industrious and prosperous, the best of neighbors and citizens.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Which states allowed women to vote for President before this election, and which state had woman suffrage first? A. W. B.

A. Wyoming was first to grant suffrage to women, the provision being incorporated in the first constitution in 1890. The states having presidential suffrage for women, prior to the 19th Amendment, were: Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Washington, California, Kansas, Illinois, Oregon, Montana, Nevada, New York, Michigan, Oklahoma, and South Dakota.

Q. What is the address of the Railroad Board, created under the Esch-Cummings Act? R. E. M.

A. This Board has offices at 5 Washington Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. C. P. Carriethers is the Secretary of the Board.

Q. What green feed should be given to hens in the winter time? O. R. M.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that sprouted oats, alfalfa meal, chopped alfalfa and clover hay, cabbage, and mangel beets are good kinds of green feed for hens during the winter. Cabbages may be hung up in the poultry house, and the beets are split and hung about a foot from the floor, to keep the feed clean.

Q. How did coffee get its name? P. A. T.

A. Coffee derives its name from Kaffa, Abyssinia, in which country it is believed that coffee trees originated. The botanical name Coffea arabica was given it because it was in Arabia that coffee was first cultivated and used as a beverage.

Q. As the speed of the revolving record on a phonograph governs the pitch of the piece, why does the pitch remain the same when the needle reaches the inner groove where it travels slower? P. W. P.

A. The Bureau of Standards says that the pitch of a phonograph record depends upon the number of vibrations per second on the diaphragm to which the needle is attached. The vibrations are caused by the irregular depth of the grooves on the record. The number of these waves is greater near the end of the record than near the center, for the same sound. The number of grooves passed over in a given time is exactly the same, whether the needle is near the edge or near the center.

Q. In the days when the Senate held its sessions in the room now occupied by the Supreme Court, where did the Supreme Court sit? G. O. M.

A. The room now occupied by the Supreme Court was the Senate Chamber until 1859, and the Supreme Court then used the room immediately beneath, now used as a law library.

Q. When was the first block signal used and what railroad used it? E. J.

A. The actual operation of the block signaling system dates from the year 1839, when it was used on the Great Western Railway of England. Sylvester's system of block signaling, invented in 1875, came to be used extensively both in the United States and in England.

Q. Was the picture entitled "Baby Stuart" at one time part of a group? G. W. L.

A. The famous picture entitled, "Baby Stuart" painted by Van Dyke, is said to be the portrait of James, Duke of York, the youngest child of Charles I of England. The child was about one year old at the time the painting was made. He was born October 14, 1633. The picture was originally one of the group of the three children of the King. The other two were Charles, Prince of Wales, who was four years old at the time the picture was made, and Mary, who later became the Princess of Orange, who was a little over three years of age at that time.

We are using a loud needle today

because we want our record heard in every living room in the city.

Last April we inaugurated a policy of taking smaller profits on all sales.

Today that stand has made us famous—given us more business than we ever dreamed of—placed our name high in the annals of community sentiment and held down the prices of men's clothing by making it hard for competition to compete with us—unless they played fair with you.

We have accomplished what we set out to accomplish—but instead of the success going to our heads it has gone to our hearts.

People of Appleton, the values you see here today not only back up our record—they embellish it.

This is your store that's speaking — YOURS from the time we dust up in the morning until we dust out at night.

LIGHTS POINT TOO LOW;
AUTO HITS FLAT CAR

The front of S. Buchman's automobile was badly damaged Saturday evening when the machine crashed into a flat car, which was part of a freight train standing on the Ashland Division tracks of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad at the Carver street crossing. The lights of the automobile showed below the level of the flat car, making it appear as open space. Mr. Buchman was uninjured.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

Dinner plates should always be sent to the table warm enough not to cool the food served on them. The plates should not be so hot one cannot handle them, but of a temperature calculated to assist in keeping hot foods hot.

Of course the quickest way to warm plates is to put them in the oven. If one has an old-fashioned warming oven and is using the "every day" dishes well and good, no material damage will be done. But never real china in a regular oven.

The safest way to warm china is to let it stand in hot water about 15 minutes. It may take a little more time, but the price of china warrants it.

Menu for Tomorrow
BREAKFAST—Cereal cooked with dates, hot buttered toast, orange marmalade, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Stuffed green peppers, whole wheat bread, Aunt Mary's cake, tea.

DINNER—Stuffed breast of veal, mashed potatoes, gravy, buttered carrots, quince salad, caramel custard, thin sugar cookies, coffee.

sonary society of the First Methodist church will have a joint parlor meeting at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the parsonage. The time was changed from 3 o'clock to 2:30 o'clock to make it possible for members to attend the lecture by Dr. Barker at the Appleton High school at 4 o'clock.

Thanksgiving Party
Mrs. Carl J. Waterman, 479 Eldorado street, entertained the members of the Mu Phi Epsilon sorority at a Thanksgiving party at her home Saturday evening. Decorations were in keeping with the season. Miss Edna Ruff won the prize at games. The stunts were followed by refreshments.

Farewell Party
A farewell party was given Sunday evening in honor of William Hamilton and Harold Bierman. Games and dancing furnished amusement. A number of vocal solos were sung by the guests of honor, who are leaving shortly for Oklahoma, where they will spend the winter.

Glee Club Rehearsal
The girls' glee club will meet at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at the Appleton high school for a rehearsal under the direction of Miss Eleanor Schneider. This will be the last rehearsal before the appearance of the club at the Woman's club meeting at 8:15 o'clock at the high school auditorium.

READING MATTER
COMPOSED WITH SINGLE LETTERS IS
READ WITH LESS CONSCIOUS EFFORT

The reasons are simple:

- reading is a series of pauses and fixations of attention—interrupted movements of the angle of vision;
- the shortness and infrequency of these pauses are the measure of ease in reading;
- easy legibility is the instant recognition of word-forms;—the more compact the words, the quicker recognized—in the highest degree, the objective mind has naught to do but assimilate the thought presented.

Type composed by a machine which has not the mechanical limitation of interposed space between letters is more easily read. It aids "pulling power" by not distracting the attention of the reader with conscious physical activity.

D. L. Plummer, Pioneer Resident of Northern City, Dies After Long Illness.

Wausau, Wis.—D. L. Plummer, president of the First National bank since its organization in 1882, died after a year's illness. He was born in New Hampshire in 1837, and came to Wausau in twenty years later, beginning his career as civil engineer and later in

ASHLAND GETS DECISION IN STREET BOND CASE

Ashland, Wis.—That a city may borrow money for the financing of public improvements rather than by issuing bonds, is the decision rendered by the state supreme court in the case of J. J. Miles, a taxpayer, against the city of Ashland.

After a $95,000 contract for paving had been let by Ashland, no provision was made in the city budget to pay for it, and there was not sufficient money in the treasury to cover the expense. To provide the necessary money the city borrowed $43,000, selling certificates of indebtedness. Miles filed suit to restrain the city from making such a loan, claiming that the only method by which the city might obtain the finances was through the issuance of bonds.

PHONE COMPANIES ASK RATE BOOSTS

Railroad Commission Grants Increases to Two Telephone Firms.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Madison—The railroad commission today handed down two decisions in telephone cases and announced hearings for several other applications for change in rates.

The New Franken Telephone company, operating in the village of New Franken and adjoining territory in Barron county, was authorized to increase its rates about 12 1/2 per cent, the old rates having been found to produce insufficient revenue to meet fixed and operating charges.

The Sanborn Telephone company, operating in the vicinity of Sanborn, Ashland county, was authorized to increase its rates from $1.50 per month to from $2 to $3.

The McKinley Telephone company, operating in Columbia county, for authority to increase its rates, alleging that the present rates are insufficient to meet operating expenses and provide for an adequate return on the property and that the policy of allowing two town service to rural grounded subscribers results in confusion and delays in service.

The Columbia county Telephone company, operating in and about the village of DeForest, alleges its present revenues are insufficient to meet operating and fixed charges, in the application for increased rates which will be argued at a hearing Nov. 29.

HORTONVILLE EQUITY SHOWS MUCH ACTIVITY

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Hortonville—Miss Roena Steffen spent the week end at New London with friends.

W. M. Rosenfeldt, of Milwaukee spent a few days in the village.

The Loyd W. Wright family moved from the Torrey flat on Main street to the Glitter flat on Mill street.

Mrs. George Jones who recently underwent a serious operation at the Appleton hospital returned to her home in the village Thursday, much improved in health.

The card party and box social given by the local branch of the American Society of Equity at Odd Fellow hall Tuesday evening was a big success. About one hundred people were in attendance.

Norman Dabareiner and Harry Steffen were Appleton visitors Tuesday.

Orto Rohm of Seymour will speak at Odd Fellow hall here Wednesday evening November 24. The subject of Mr. Rohm's talk will be "Co-operation."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lamb spent the week end at Fond du Lac and Neenah.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. Fred Buchman Wednesday afternoon.

The Rev. Edward Schimberg of Greenville was a guest of the Rev. J. M. Komers Thursday.

Lyman Miller, Frank Castellion, Fred Fulcer and Alfred Hunsicker left Tuesday for Turtle Lake where they will be employed in the woods.

MORE APPLICANTS THAN THERE ARE JOBS

Free Employment Offices Find Demand for Positions Increasing.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Madison—A report of the industrial commission upon the work of the eleven free employment offices which it conducts in this state, covering the month of October, shows that during this month the number of male applicants was 95 per cent of the demand for male help, and the supply of women applicants 75 per cent of the demand. There was, however, during this month an excess of supply over demand in very many classes of labor, including all clerical and all semi-skilled lines, as well as many skilled occupations. At a considerable number of the offices there was also an excess of the supply of common labor.

That during the month more help was wanted than there were applications for work was due wholly to the great demand for wood laborers. Recent reports received, however, indicate that this demand has now been met and that a considerable number of men who are seeking employment in the woods work of the northern part of the state are unable to find the same.

The lumber companies are hiring only experienced woodsmen, and men without woods experience should keep away from the lumber towns.

The reports of the employment offices also show that for the first time in years the supply of women for domestic service is practically equal to the demand. Women workers who have lost jobs in factories are seeking employment in domestic service. In some offices there is an actual excess of applicants for domestic service over calls for help. During the month of October there was a surplus of male applicants over calls for help in Green Bay, La Crosse, Madison, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Racine and Wausau. In the same month there was a surplus of female applicants over calls for help in Green Bay, Oshkosh, Racine and Sheboygan.

BUSINESS MOST POPULAR AMONG 20,116 STUDENTS

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Madison—Business studies are the most popular of the many correspondence courses offered by the University of Wisconsin, extension division. Of the total of 20,116 active correspondents students enrolled during the last year, 6,896, or about one-third, pursued business, vocational, or commercial courses, according to figures just prepared. This was an increase of over 2,000 over the preceding year.

manship, secretarial work, scientific management, and government accounting were among the subjects presented in the business courses.

Engineering and industrial studies were next in demand. During the past year, 4,998, or 24 per cent, of the total number of students enrolled, studied engineering by correspondence. This was an increase of about 22 per cent over the first year.

Social science, including an Americanization course and a course for foreign students, had 1,847 students. Mathematics had an enrollment of 1,661; physical sciences, 1,587; and foreign languages, 185.

At the end of the year in June, 1920, there was carried forward an enrollment of 14,920 active students, out of the 20,116 enrolled during the year. Of these 10,869 were men. This total has since been augmented by new students enrolled since that time.

WOOL PROSPECT IS BAD, MARKET LETTER REPORTS

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Madison—The next issue of the division of markets' News Letter will say of the wool market:

"The wool market remains inactive as far as sales are concerned. The outlook is not bright and there is no indication of the time that a decided change for the better can be looked for. Very little of the wool held in the wool pools formed by the farmers of the midwest has been sold and there is a concerted action to hold tight and wait until satisfactory prices have been set. The goods market is inactive and it is estimated that 25 per cent of the spindles in the country are idle. Lack of credit is bothering many would-be buyers and what buying is being done is for actual present needs and this is limited due, no doubt, to the high prices which retailers are prone to keep charging. Some authorities look for a break after the first of the year, but that is only guess work. No bids high enough to cause consideration have been received for the wool in the state pools and therefore the approximately 20,000,000 pounds of wool held by the growers is still in central warehouses waiting for a price large enough to warrant its movement."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits.

SHEBOYGAN PROBES POOR FARM CONTROL

Sheboygan—The general management of the poor farm and almshouse, together with the care and treatment of the patients, was ordered investigated by the common council, following charges of mistreatment and mismanagement made by several of the aldermen.

The investigation was initiated through the discovery of J. Feitman, an aged inmate of the asylum, in the boiler house of the Sheboygan County Insane asylum, looking for an implement with which to take his life, according to Aldermen H. F. Hinz and A. W. Kuether, who were called from the sheriff's office by the superintendent of the asylum to question the man.

Falling on his knees when he was apprehended in his search and with tears streaming down his face, the man begged that he be not taken back to the city poor farm. His statements of treatment received there led to the investigation.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT FLAYS POOR SCHOOLS

Manitowoc, Wis.—Declaring that the most noticeable delinquency in the school life of Manitowoc was the quitting of school students after they have finished the seventh grade, J. L. Waite, new superintendent of city schools here, addressed the Rotary club on Manitowoc's school system and its needs. The superintendent stated that there was only one school building in the city that approaches a modern structure. That was the McKinley school, he said. In other schools of the city ventilation is poor, artificial lighting is deficient and sanitary conditions are not good. Mr. Waite told the Rotarians, C. J. Stangel, principal of the high school, exhibited a chart showing the rapid increase in attendance during the last nine years. In June, 1911, his chart shows, there were 348 city students in high school, while now there are 736, with scarcely any more provision made for housing them.

MILWAUKEE WOMAN GAINS 20 POUNDS

Friends Compliment Her On Wonderful Improvement Since Taking Tanlac

"The day I started taking Tanlac I was just a nervous wreck and weighed only a hundred and five pounds, but the medicine has built me up to a hundred and twenty-five pounds and I never felt better in my life," said Mrs. Jacob Barwind, of 1173 Seventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

"My appetite left me entirely, and my stomach was so disordered that after even the lightest kind of a meal I would have severe pains in the pit of my stomach, and often became so nauseated I couldn't retain a thing. I had dreadful pains around my heart, and my back hurt simply awful. My head would ache for days at a time, and when I bent over I became so dizzy that I could scarcely see. My nerves were completely upset, and at night I was so restless that sleep was almost impossible.

"My husband got me a bottle of Tanlac and I began to improve from the very first. After taking three bottles my appetite is just splendid and everything agrees with me perfectly. I'm free from those awful headaches and dizzy attacks and my back doesn't pain me any more. The nervousness is all gone and at night I sleep like a child. Everybody is complimenting me on my present good health and my twenty-five pounds gain in weight, and words simply can't express my gratitude for what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Volgt; F. O. Brown, Shiocton; Dr. J. M. Sattler, Brown Creek; H. E. Ahend, Dale; R. E. Lowell, Little Chute, adv.

Women of Middle Age

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change in her life without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, smothering spells, fainting spells, nervous troubles and irregularities are symptoms that should have prompt attention. These two letters prove what a successful remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women at this time of life.

These Two Women Helped During Change of Life.

Taunton, Mass.—"I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months, caused by female trouble. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for it."—Mrs. NESAN C. STAPLES, 157 B School St., Taunton, Mass.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I want to let you know what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I had organic troubles and am going through the Change of Life. I was taken with a pain in my side and a bad headache. I could not lie down, could not eat or sleep. I suffered something terrible and the doctor's medicine did me no good at all—my pains got worse instead of better. I began taking the Vegetable Compound and felt a change from the first. Now I feel fine and advise any one going through the Change of Life to try it, for it cured me after I had given up all hopes of getting better. I will tell any one who writes to me the good it has done me."—Mrs. MARGARET DANZ, 743 N. 25th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Women Study Political History Of United States

Tuesday Club Prepares Interesting Study Program for Winter Season.

Politics and politicians are being studied by the Tuesday club at its meetings in the season of 1920-1921. No definite subject was assigned for the year's work but the weekly programs are arranged with the view of getting a splendid insight into American political history.

Mrs. George Danbruech entertained the club at the first meeting of the year, September 14. Roll call was answered with vacation items. Miss Ada Kethro had a paper on "The Era of Reconstruction after the Civil War."

Mrs. A. A. Wettengel and Mrs. H. E. Griffin were the hostesses for Sept. 28. Members responded to roll call with reminiscences of the Civil war. Mrs. Maine discussed parties, the primaries, registration and casting the ballot.

Mrs. A. W. Bloom entertained the club October 12. Roll call was responded to with sentiments on women's suffrage. Mrs. John Goodrick read a paper on "Twenty Years of Republican Supremacy." A straw vote for president was taken at the meeting Oct. 28. Mrs. H. B. Peterson discussed why she would join a party. Mrs. H. J. Searles and Mrs. Robert Halford were the hostesses.

Mrs. L. P. Bushey entertained the club November 9. Quotations about George Washington were given in answer to roll call. Mrs. William Eschner had the topic "The Cleveland Democracy." Mrs. John Graef read from the Woman Citizen Journal.

Mrs. H. B. Peterson and Mrs. A. L. Wolf will be the hostesses for the November 23 meeting. Roll call will be answered with quotations about "Thanksgiving." Miss Ida Hopkins and Mrs. H. E. Griffin will give readings from the Woman Citizen. Historical events with their dates will be given in answer to roll call at the meeting Dec. 7. Mrs. L. P. Bushey will give a historical reading. Hostesses will be Mrs. Maine and Miss Ida Hopkins.

The Misses Ada and Flora Kethro will entertain the club December 21. Christmas quotations will be given in answer to roll call. Mrs. Robert Halford will discuss the state suffrage regulation and women voters in the states. Mrs. V. C. Buell will give a reading.

January 4 will be a Roosevelt afternoon. Roll call will be answered with quotations from Roosevelt, and Mrs. A. A. Wettengel will discuss his policies. Miss Flora Kethro will give a synopsis of the Biography of McKinley. Mrs. George Ewen will be the hostess.

Mrs. H. Cole will entertain the club Jan. 18. Humorous selections will be given in answer to roll call. Miss Helen Schmidt will take the topic "Doubling the Electorate" and Mrs. Johnson will discuss the county government.

Mrs. W. S. Taylor and Mrs. E. W. King will be the hostesses at the meeting Feb. 1. Quotations from Lincoln will be given in reply to roll call. The Taft administration will be discussed by Mrs. W. O. Thiede and Mrs. George Ewen will give a reading.

A social will be held Feb. 15 at the home of Miss Helen Schmidt. Mrs. W. O. Thiede will be the hostess for March 8. Current events will be

"NO MORE SLEEPLESS NIGHTS," AVERS GREEN BAY NURSE

When a practical nurse of Mrs. Ada Greenwood's reputation, who has spent years in the study of her profession, endorses and recommends a remedy that remedy must have exceptional merit. In an interesting statement made last week, Mrs. Greenwood, 218 Adams St., who is well and favorably known in Green Bay says:

"My poor nerves simply wouldn't permit me to get a good night's rest. My system was terribly run down. Practically all the time I felt dragged out and weary, without any real energy or strength. Dizzy sensations with flashes before the eyes and luring down pains were not uncommon. Nothing seemed to restore me to health until one day I read about this new discovery, Kozak, and decided to try it.

"After taking one bottle of Kozak I can truthfully say that my nerves have quieted down. I feel much better and can sleep better nights. I haven't had a dizzy spell since I took Kozak. I now recommend Kozak because it has helped me. I intend to continue its use until satisfied that my troubles have gone forever."

Kozak, the $10,000 Formula, which seems to master kidney, liver, stomach and catarrhal troubles when all else fails, is now being explained by the Kozak man, in person, at Schlitz Brothers drug store, corner College avenue and Oneida street.

FUREY ACQUITTED OF EXTORTION CHARGE

New York—Edward Furey was acquitted today on a charge of attempting to extort $5,000 from Charles Pfitich, president of the Baltic Steamship company of Montreal, in the latter's office here.

Pfitich testified that Furey and James Keen, a private detective from Canada, threatened to make public alleged evidence that Pfitich brought about the burning of the steamer Oceanica at her pier in Montreal in July, 1919.

SEEK EX-AVIATOR IN MAIL ROBBERY CASE

Omaha, Neb.—Keith Collins, 23, former lieutenant in the air service in the great war and decorated several times for bravery, is being sought by federal officials as the "master mind" in the $250,000 Burlington mail robbery in Council Bluffs last Saturday.

Collins, who was a Union Pacific fireman, is believed to have escaped with a large amount of plunder.

Mrs. T. A. Daly, the only woman in the case, was arrested last night charged with receiving stolen property.

LINCOLN LEADS WAY IN FREE DENTISTRY

Merrill, Wis.—Lincoln county is the first county in Wisconsin to establish a dental clinic in connection with its rural schools. An appropriation of $1,500 was made Tuesday by the county board for this purpose on the request of Miss Edna P. Witwen, county nurse, and Supervisor T. J. Metcalf, a former dentist. The appropriation, while small, owing to the fact that the county's expenses are already close to the limit for which the county may levy taxes, is believed sufficient to conduct the clinic at four schools in the county and with this start it is believed that parents will demand its continuance in the future. No permanent fillings, bridge work or other expensive operations to the teeth will be performed, but in addition to extraction of teeth, temporary fillings, cleaning of teeth, etc., advice will be given as to the proper care of the teeth.

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Drink Lots of Water and Stop Eating Meat for a While if Your Bladder Troubles You

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric-acid which overloads the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, adv.

TOWN OF CENTER IS ROLL CALL LEADER

Little Chute High School Enrolls 100 Per Cent—Appleton Is Lagging.

Reports are coming in steadily from the fourth Red Cross roll call. There is a note of encouragement in those emanating from the county, but Appleton appears to be lagging a bit, due perhaps to the changed method of solicitation.

Among the leaders is Little Chute high school, which has a 100 per cent enrollment. The students are inducing others to become members. The Hortonville high school has not attained a perfect score but its members are active to a commendable degree.

The town of Center holds the lead for the number of members gained from strictly rural townships. Enthusiasm and keen interest has been shown by the branch workers everywhere. Bad roads and bad weather delayed the roll call in the northern half of the county, but the workers are confident that they will finish with good records.

Kaukauna is reported to be making steady progress on the roll call and it is expected that the number of members will exceed that of last year.

Appleton's enrollment to date is reported to be low compared to that of other years. This is laid directly to the change in the method of conducting the roll call. People have not been solicited in mills, factories, business houses or other places of employment.

"It was hoped that those who worked away from home would leave their memberships in the home," said Mrs. H. W. Wells, roll call chairman, "and that block solicitors might thus register 100 per cent for their families. The idea was to spare confusion and annoyance in business places. This plan is still on trial and all those who have not enrolled are asked to secure their membership from the block solicitors or enroll at the headquarters in the Sherman house building."

SALARY OF JUDGE RAISED BY BOARD

County Board Appropriates Several Large Sums of Morning Session.

The total tax levy of the county this year as shown by the report of the finance committee which was adopted at the meeting of the county board Saturday morning is $776,489.61 over that of last year.

The resolution relating to the building of a sidewalk on the west side of Kimberly bridge, the county and village of Kimberly to share equally in the expense, was adopted.

A resolution was also adopted requesting the legislature to raise the salary of the county judge to $4,000 a year. The salary of Miss Mollie Pfefferle, assistant county clerk, was increased $200 per year.

Twelve thousand dollars was appropriated for the building of a new laundry at the county asylum. Ten thousand dollars was appropriated to the town of Oneida for the building of three new bridges, the town having provided for its share of the expense.

The report of the committee appointed to investigate the matter of raising the abstract fees of the register of deeds office was adopted, recommending an increase. The training school report and the work house report were adopted as was also the report of the committee on general accounts.

An appropriation of $2,000 was made to be used in keeping certain improved highways open the coming winter. The report of the committee on a county home demonstrator was received and placed on file.

The per diem and mileage of members amounted to $1,834 which was ordered paid. District Attorney Fred Heinemann was given a rising vote in appreciation of his attendance at all the sessions of the board. The members completed their work at noon.

"MULE KICK" STUFF DRAWS HIM $10 FINE

Some "white stuff" that had a regular mule kick" set the head of Charles Runge, Hortonville, whirling Friday evening while he was trying to make his way along College. His actions were too outwardly suspicious for Police Captain Patrick Vaughn, who escorted Runge to the safe confines of the calaboose. Runge said somebody shinned up to him while at a local saloon and sold him a bottle that was "little, but oh my!"

He was arraigned in municipal court Saturday morning on the charge of drunkenness and paid a fine and costs of $10.20.

150 ATTEND BANQUET FOR COLLEGE GRID MEN

About 150 Lawrence College students attended the football banquet at Hotel Appleton Saturday evening. Coach McChesney acted as toastmaster. Responses were given by Dr. James S. Reeve for the trustees; Chester Roberts for the alumni; Dr. W. F. McPheeters for the faculty; Gwendolyn Jacobs for the coeds; and Gerhard Kubitz for the team. The dining room was cleverly and appropriately decorated with a football in the center with the scores of the season appended. The Lawrence colors of blue and white were used in the streamers. PLAN PROGRAM FOR C. OF C. FORUM

Entertainment and Speeches Scheduled for Wednesday Night Banquet.

Special entertainment is to be a feature of the chamber of commerce forum meeting Wednesday evening at Appleton hotel, in view of its being the eve of Thanksgiving.

C. C. Baker, chairman of the entertainment committee, is arranging some unique "stunts" that will make the meeting delightful. The dinner at 6:45 o'clock will be a Thanksgiving giving menu. Reservations are all ready coming in liberally and all are expected to be made by Tuesday noon.

One of the subjects in the commercial limelight, "Federal Taxation," is to be the subject of the address by H. Archibald Harris, Chicago, tax expert. He will explain in the language of the layman how tax returns should be computed so they will give the correct interpretation of a man's business. The difference between invested capital and income, and the relation of the one to the other, will be defined so definitely that the listener will be able to draw a fine line of distinction between the two. Depreciation, the pivot of the entire tax system, will be touched upon.

Mr. Harris speaks with authority on

COMPLETE PLANS FOR HIGH SCHOOL AUCTION

Plans for the actual work of the selling of the vast number of articles which will be offered at the Senior Auction of the high school next Wednesday are practically completed. The name of the auctioneer is being withheld, but considerable interest is being aroused over the fact that it is one of the members of the school faculty, who will endeavor to coax the dollars from the readers of the pools.

The sale will begin at two P. M. sharp, with the yells and songs of the pools.

The selling committee is composed of Edna Becker, chairman; Estelle Hagen, Genevieve Steffen, Wilma Manning, Catherine Reckner, Annette Landers, Doris Maahs, Alice Holzer, Louise Carpenter.

all matters relating to taxation, because he has had practical experience on the side of the government as a tax official, and on the side of the business man through the service rendered firms and business associations by his firm, Archibald Harris and company. Very few of the questions and problems arising in the average business have escaped his notice since income and other taxation became a popular means of raising government revenue.

$2,000,000 BOOST IN CAPITAL STOCK

Traction Company Increases Capital to Prepare for Power Development.

Capitalization of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company has been increased from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000, according to amended articles of incorporation filed with the secretary of state in Madison. The company is planning to issue $2,000,000 worth of preferred stock, it was said.

A. K. Ellis, superintendent, said Monday morning that his company is planning large extensions but is not prepared to make them public. It is known that the company has been working on a water power development for many months and that the extension of its service to the surrounding territory is rapidly making it necessary to increase its source of power.

When the new developments are completed the local company will be one of the largest in the middle west, it is believed. Electric energy is now transmitted to twenty-one towns, villages and cities in Outagamie and adjacent counties.

OPEN CAMPAIGN TO AID CHILDREN OF GERMANY

The Christian Mothers of St. Joseph church will conduct a card party Tuesday evening at St. Joseph hall for the benefit of the starving women and children of Germany. The drive for relief funds is in progress in Outagamie county this week and the card social will be only one of the means of contributing toward the county's quota.

A national drive is in progress under the direction of Herbert Hoover, and this week is set aside for Wisconsin. It is said that thousands of children under five years have died in Germany through lack of nourishment.

ANNUAL MEETING OF BOY SCOUT COUNCIL

The annual meeting of the Appleton Boy Scout Advisory council is to be held in connection with a dinner at six o'clock Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Officers are to be elected. Some of the important matters to come before the first annual gathering are the three-year budget for scout work, a recruiting contest to enlist more boys, and others. The report of E. R. Henderson, scout executive, and of the standing committees will be presented.

William Bailey, mail carrier, was taken sick while on duty Monday morning and was conveyed to his home on Story street.

TO ORGANIZE LIFE SAVING CORPS HERE

Boy Scouts and Y. M. C. A. Co-operating to Teach Expert Swimming Methods.

The Boy Scouts and the Y. M. C. A. will combine efforts in securing a large number of men and boys in the Junior and senior Red Cross Life Saving Corps.

E. R. Henderson, Boy Scout executive, has secured the services of Dr. Koch of Chicago, who is appointed by the Red Cross as an examiner, for Friday and Saturday, November 26 and 27. All tests will be held in the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool, and will be open to all Boy Scouts and members of the Y. M. C. A. An effort will be made to get at least 100 in the two life saving corps. A board of examiners will be qualified Friday morning.

The committee in charge of the program consists of Mr. Henderson, R. H. Starkey, physical director of the Y. M. C. A.; Carl Olson, assistant physical director; Clinton McCready, swimming instructor; Leigh Hooley,

Annual Meeting
Important!

Boy Scout master, Douglas Pierce, Harry Colvin and Charles Treat, of the Y. M. C. A. This board of examiners will be selected for one year so that examinations may be held each month in the Y. M. C. A. pool.

A boy in order to become a member of the Junior Life-Saving Corps must comply with the following tests:

1. Life-Savers must be able to tow persons of their own weight 10 yards by each of the following methods:
 - a. Head-carry, using two hands and swimming on back.
 - b. Under-body carry, using two hands and swimming on back.
 - c. Across-shoulder carry, using one arm and side stroke.
 - d. Hands of rescued, on shoulders, using breast stroke.
2. They are required to demonstrate both the Schaefer and Sylvester methods of performing artificial respiration, although the Schaefer method is the one preferred.
3. They must be able to show in the water three methods of releasing themselves from people in peril of drowning when grasped by
 - a. Wrist hold.
 - b. Front neck hold.
 - c. Back neck hold.

Members of the Senior Life Saving Corps must satisfactorily pass the following tests:

1. In the water.
 - a. Demonstrate head, under-arm, breast and side-stroke rescue methods (fifty feet with each).
 - b. Demonstrate release methods for wrist hold and front and back strangle-holds, turning properly and landing subject each time.
 - c. Dive from surface of water and retrieve an object weighing 10 pounds from a depth of at least six feet.
 - d. Carry dressed person in water one minute.
 2. On the land,
 - a. Demonstrate five release methods.
 - b. Demonstrate Schaefer and Sylvester methods of resuscitation for asphyxiation by gas, smoke, electric shock and drowning.
 - c. Give written answers to five selected questions on water safety.
- The Junior Life Saving Corps is open to any boy between the ages of 12 and 16, the senior to any one over 18. Boys or men passing the test will receive the Red Cross medallion.
- The tests will be open to the public Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. An exhibition will be held Saturday night and a small admission fee will be charged in order to defray the expenses of Dr. Koch and the advertising.

MULLENIX WINNER OF HYDE CONTEST MEDAL

Ralph Mullenix was the winner of the Hyde Medal at the annual Hyde contest Friday evening at the high school. "The Man and the Song" was the name of his selection. The medal was awarded for excellent deliverance of the selection.

The judges, Dr. McPheeters, Miss Louise Bucholz and Leon C. High, mentioned Edna Becker as second best speaker and Carl Damshaus as third place winner.

"The Old Seniors' Will" was the title of Miss Becker's selection, and "For Dear Old Yale" was given by Carl Damshaus.

Ruth Hagen, Babette Marshall and Frank Van Wyk were the other contestants for the medal.

GRAND CHUTE FARMER HITS POSTOFFICE TRUCK

A car belonging to John Heenan of Grand Chute and the parcels post delivery truck collided at the corner of Walnut street and College avenue at nine o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Heenan was going west on College avenue and the truck, which had been going east, was in the act of turning west when they came together. The postal truck escaped damage, while the other car was able to continue under its own power. The accident was due to the slippery condition of the pavement.

Two cars, one of which belonged to James Van Heuklon, came together at the corner of College avenue and State street at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening. Neither was damaged.

No Mail Delivery
No mail will be delivered by either city or rural carriers Thanksgiving day, according to Gustave Keller, postmaster. The general delivery, stamp, money order and registry windows will be open from eight to ten o'clock Thursday morning.

She Keeps Faith With You

Will You Keep Faith With Her?

Remember This Fact---The Red Cross Does Just As Much For a Suffering and Afflicted Humanity During Peace As In Time of War.

Be Fair and Be Liberal, Join Tomorrow, at the Health Center, 627 Appleton Street, or the Sherman Hotel Headquarters

Quietly, but effectively, the Greatest Mother in the World is giving aid to those who need it most. She has not forgotten the crippled, blinded remnants of the war who are still in Army and Navy hospitals.

She does more. She takes to her arms the victims of disaster in peace, the victims of floods, fire, tornadoes and other catastrophes. Over 30,000 such unfortunates were shielded and sheltered by her this year. The Greatest Mother in the World--YOUR RED CROSS--is keeping faith with you; keeping faith not merely in your own country, but in devastated Europe as well.

Will you keep faith with her? The good she has done in the past has been made possible entirely through your membership. Join the Red Cross or renew your membership during the

ANOTHER DROP IN GRAIN QUOTATIONS

Reports That Flour Mills Are Closing Depress Wheat Prices.

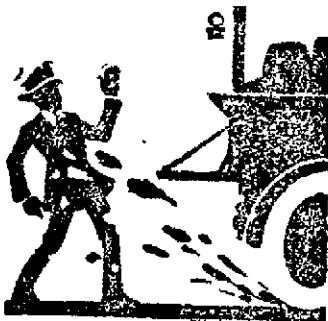

By United Press Licensed Wire
Chicago—Grain quotations dropped sharply again today in trading on the Chicago board of trade. On reports of flour mills closing because of lack of orders, wheat lost from six to ten cents.

Corn and oats dropped in sympathy although the declines were not as large as in wheat. Provisions were

STOCKS ADVANCE IN LATE TRADING TODAY
By United Press Licensed Wire
New York—Stocks advanced today on the New York stock exchange, many rising rapidly late in the day when call money dropped to five per cent.
The rate was the lowest since Nov. 3, 1919, when it went to 2 per cent. On that day, however, it opened at 10 and closed at five per cent.
There was an attempt at selling in the first hour today but encouraging statements over the week-end resulted in advances in tobacco and other groups and the whole market steadied.

REALTY TRANSFERS
Among the real estate transfers recorded at the office of register of deeds Monday morning were: Scheffer estate to Leonard Wittig, part of block 33, first ward plat, consideration, private; August W. Flunker to Arnold Handshike, 160 acres in Greenville, consideration, private; William B. Casterson, et. al., to Louis G. Becker, et. ux., lot in Seymour, consideration, $2,600; Wisconsin and Northern Railway company to August Winter, lot in Third ward, consideration, $3,000; James Skendore, et. ux., to L. Edwin Liebermann, land in Ononda, consideration, private; George C. Lemke to Joseph Monty, 60 acres in Deer Creek, consideration, private.

Hear Dr. Charles E. Barker's Lectures Tuesday, November 23rd.

The Rotary Club of Appleton takes pleasure in presenting to the public a series of three lectures by Dr. Chas. E. Barker, a gentleman concerning the value of whose work the very highest testimonials are received from the press, the Rotary officials and from schools, as well as from a number of our own citizens who have heard him. There will be no admission charge, no collection, no appeal for funds of any kind.

An address "How to Make the Most of Life" will be given at the Appleton High School Tuesday morning to high school students.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON at 4:00 P. M. Dr. Barker will address the women on the subject "A Mother's Relation to Her Daughter."

TUESDAY EVENING AT 8 P. M. at the Lawrence Chapel Dr. Barker will speak to men and young men, only, on the subject "A Father's Responsibility to His Son."

The following are a few extracts from statements concerning his work:

"He sure is a wonder." "The best investment we ever made." "The best thing ever brought to Tulsa." "His lectures will do your city more good than anything I know." He makes good in capital letters. "Dr. Barker's day goes down in the history of the Chicago Rotary Club as being the best from every standpoint we ever had." "The most helpful lecture I ever listened to." "Its results will be found in generations to come."

RIPON WINS OVER BELOIT, 21 TO 0

Red Team Clinches Second Place in Little Five Championship Race.

Ripon-In one of the most spectacular football games ever played here, Ripon downed Beloit 21 to 0 Saturday afternoon. A pass from Edison Usher, acting captain, to Schneider scored a touchdown in the first eight minutes. The last two touchdowns were made featuring line plunges of Trantow and Jerdee in the last period. Clement, Ripon's lightest man, played a whirlwind game. Beloit showed great machine work in the second period. In the third period Clement stopped Beloit from scoring by tackling Radebaugh after he had run sixty yards. Beloit made a long pass for touchdown and the pass was complete, but Smith caught the ball outside of the end zone. Dad Usher of Stoughton was a most enthusiastic witness at the game, because brother against brother played excellent games for their individual teams. Mr. Usher grinned at the end of the first half and said "It was just what I thought it would be." A third son played on the Stoughton High school team at Richland Center on Saturday. Smith of Beloit broke his right shoulder during the third period and was taken out at the end of the quarter. A special train load of Beloit students saw Beloit go down in a hard defeat. Over two thousand witnessed the game. Coach Olson shoved in second squad men in the latter part of the game. Trantow of Ripon was the best line plunger of either team, going through for eight, ten or fifteen yards frequently.

CHICAGO TEAMS LEAD IN MID-WEST TOURNEY

Distinctively Dressed

THIS morning thousands of men walked into Pullman wash-rooms, shaved, washed and put on their best shirts. Their best because seldom do men eye each other's dress so unashamedly as there. Hundreds of those shirts bore the Eagle label. They were put on by men who want to be distinguished from the crowd, who like better patterns, more refined workmanship, an air of smartness they can't get except in the best. The Pullman test is a good test.

TOO MUCH CROWLEY AS APPLETON LOSES TO EAST GREEN BAY

Local Team Eliminated as Championship Contender in 36 to 0 Tilt.

GREEN BAY HAS REAL STAR

Appleton Unable to Stop Grid-Iron Wizard-Team Is Puzzled by Attack.

Completely outclassed and outplayed in all except about ten minutes of the second period, Appleton high school football team was eliminated as a state championship contender when it was defeated by Crowley, great East Green Bay halfback, and ten other East Green Bay high school men at Green Bay Saturday afternoon, 36 to 0. The score indicates the difference between the two teams. Only one of the Green Bay touchdowns was fluky-the others came as a result of sterling football. Stubborn defense by Appleton prevented the Baymen from scoring two more touchdowns. Once they were held on the one yard line and once Appleton stopped the Bay attack on its seven yard line.

Crowley Is Star
To Crowley must go the laurel wreath of the victor. The star played one of the finest games ever seen on any high school gridiron. He skirted the Appleton ends; threw forward passes with amazing accuracy; outplayed Roach; stopped dozens of Appleton plays and then topped off the afternoon's work by dropping kicking from the 35 yard line. He scored the two of the Green Bay touchdowns and might have scored the others if he had elected himself to carry the ball. Crowley played halfback, but called the signals and stamped himself as a great field general. He played in the fullback's position on the defensive.

Plaudits heaped on Crowley's head should not detract from the credit due the other Baymen. Skogg, halfback, would be a sensation if he did not have Crowley playing with him. This little backfield man tore through the touted Appleton line for many good gains; caught several forward passes and was a demon on the defense. He was injured in the closing minutes of the game when he tackled Jacobson just as the latter got started on what appeared to be a long run.

Van Lanen, quarterback, showed lots of ability in carrying the ball. Riley was wonder in the line, stopped many Appleton plays before they got started. Appleton off Form Appleton played far below its usual form. Crowley's reputation apparently had them buffaloed and they let the Baymen get a commanding lead before they woke up. Briese was injured early in the game and his loss demoralized the squad. Green Bay scored two touchdowns so quickly that the Orange and Blue boys were bewildered.

Jacobson played a whale of a game on the defensive, stopping many threatening runs. He also showed up as a star of the first water in carrying the ball from the kickoff and also skirting the ends for good gains, but he played way off form as a field general and his passing was poor. He threw innumerable passes but only a very few were completed-in fact as many were intercepted by Green Bay men as the Appleton boys covered. He persisted in throwing lateral passes which the Baymen were expert in breaking up. It was this failure of the aerial game which was largely responsible for the local's defeat.

Roach Is Covered
Roach was thoroughly covered by the Green Bay defense and could do but little. He broke loose a few times, however, and plunged through for good gains. He was the best fighter on the Appleton team-too good in fact-for he was removed in the last quarter on a charge of slugging. The backfield made its best gains around the ends but encountered stone wall defense when it tried the center.

Stedman, end, played the best game of any of the linemen. He is a comparatively little fellow, but he has a fighting heart and he played hard tackling well and carried the ball for fair gains in his few tries. He stood head and shoulders above every other lineman.

More than 2,200 people, including at least 500 from Appleton, saw the battle which was played at Ilwaco-meister park. The day was ideal for football. The quarters were shortened to 12 1/2 minutes each in order to finish before darkness.

First Quarter
Roach kicked off to Green Bay and the ball was returned 15 yards. Green Bay tried two plays, gaining four yards after which Crowley kicked to Roach who was downed on his 20 yard line. Three line plays netted a gain of one yard. Roach kicked, but Green Bay came through and blocked the ball. The Baymen recovering on Appleton's 30 yard line. The first forward pass was broken up but the second, with Crowley on the throwing end, netted four yards. Another pass carried the ball to Appleton's ten yard line. Crowley ripped through the local line for seven yards in two plays and then plunged five more for a touchdown. He failed to kick the goal. Four minutes of the quarter had been played.

Green Bay kicked and the ball was put in play on Appleton's 30 yard line. Bloomer tried to carry the ball round the opposite end but could not gain. A forward pass netted nine yards and then Briese crashed thru the line for a 20 yard gain. Another pass failed and then Briese added five more yards. The next pass was intercepted by Crowley who ran 60 yards for Green Bay's second touchdown, and then kicked goal.

Green Bay kicked to Jacobson who ran the ball back to midfield where he was forced out of bounds. Briese gained a yard and then Skogg intercepted a pass giving Green Bay the ball on its 40 yard line. Van Lanen made four yards through center and Hearden made another after which Crowley fumbled and Appleton recovered. Three plays gained only four yards. Roach kicked and Green Bay put the ball in play on its own 25 yard line. An incomplete pass ended the quarter.

Second Quarter
Crowley gained seven yards in a dash around the end. A forward pass failed and another gained only one yard. Crowley kicked to Roach who was downed on his own 15 yard line. Roach made nine yards around right end, Jacobson made a half yard and then Green Bay was penalized. Roach made another yard and then Green Bay intercepted a pass on Appleton's 45 yard line. The first play, a forward pass, netted 20 yards. Hearden went five yards over the line and another pass put the ball on Appleton's two yard line. Skogg fumbled but recovered. Briese was hurt in the play and retired. Courtney taking his place. Crowley was thrown for a 2 yard loss; a pass gained one yard and the Green Bay lost the ball when another pass was grounded. It was Appleton's ball on its own five yard line. Roach immediately kicked to the middle of the field. Crowley skirting the end for 15 yards. Two passes failed but the third gained 22 yards. The ball was carried to Appleton's five yard line where the Orange and Blue again held, throwing runners back to the nine yard line. Jacobson ripped thru for three yards; Courtney added two more and Roach kicked in with a five yard gain. On the next play Roach kicked to Green Bay's 20 yard line. Crowley gained two yards and then Van Duren ran around left end for twelve more. Appleton held for the next three downs and Green Bay kicked. Stedman ran around the end for five yards; Jacobson added seven more and then three passes failed, after which Roach kicked. Crowley immediately punted for Green Bay, the quarter ending with Appleton holding the ball in the middle of the field.

Third Quarter
Appleton started strong at the start of the period. Green Bay kicked and the ball was put in play on Appleton's 10 yard line. The first effort, a long forward pass, failed by inches. Bloomer gained two yards and then a short pass over the line added 15 more. Roach plunged over tackle for seven more; Courtney added two and a pass gained five yards and another first down. The next four efforts failed to gain the distance and Green Bay got the ball.

With Crowley and Hearden alternating, the Baymen advanced the ball by bucking the line and skirting the ends from the middle of the field to Appleton's five yard line. A penalty put the ball on the local's one yard line and Crowley went over for a touchdown and kicked the goal.

Green Bay kicked to Dunn who ran the ball back five yards. On the second play Appleton fumbled and Green Bay got the ball on its 30 yard line. A forward pass put the ball on the local's 15 yard line and a plunge over the line added five more. Roach was sent out of the game and Kempfert went in. Crowley went over for a touchdown on the play and kicked the goal. Briese got into the game at that point. The quarter ended as Green Bay kicked off.

Must Start Now To Make City Planning Of Use To City, Forum Speakers Say

J. G. Rosebush and O. P. Fairfield Deliver Instructive Lectures on City Planning at Lawrence Chapel Sunday Evening—Much Room for Improvement.

"My wish is that it become traditional that in the city of Appleton that hereafter all public buildings be constructed of stone from the Eden quarry," said Judson G. Rosebush in discussing City Planning at the meeting of the People's Forum of Lawrence Memorial Chapel Sunday evening.

Mr. Rosebush called attention to the extensive building program that has been carried on in the city for the last sixteen or seventeen years during which time St. Elizabeth hospital, Appleton high school, Carnegie library, Franklin school building, four bank buildings, postoffice, Y. M. C. A., Russell Sage dormitory, vocational school building and Lawrence Memorial chapel were constructed and regretted that they were not harmonious as to material and style.

Another matter which the speaker deplored was that the buildings were not grouped around a common square so as to make a civic center. "The trouble is," Mr. Rosebush said, "we began this planning too late in life. Let us not make any more errors."

The discussion was conducted by Mr. Rosebush and Prof. O. P. Fairfield of Lawrence college and was highly instructive and entertaining. Dr. H. E. Peabody presided and called attention to the fact that it was three hundred years to the day since the signing of Mayflower compact, three sentences of which he read. Community singing was led by Prof. Carl J. Waterman. There was a large attendance considering the weather.

Sees Many Improvements

Mr. Rosebush stated that it was at most twenty years since he came to Appleton and at that time the fire apparatus was pulled by horses. Within the last eight years the department has been motorized and is the only one in the state with 100 per cent motorization. He did not consider the location of the engine house a good one, however, on account of the congested condition of traffic on Oneida street.

"In 1903 when I came here," said Mr. Rosebush, "there were very few cement walks in Appleton, and practically speaking this was a town where people walked on wooden sidewalks. Today I am told we have eighty miles of cement walks."

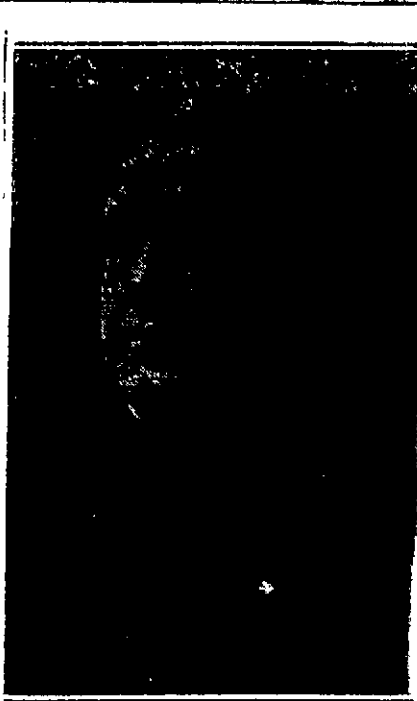

"The first year my first effort was in trying to write a few articles on the much mooted question of waterworks. Litigation started in 1904 and continued until 1911, when we took over the plant at an expenditure of $255,000. Since then the city has expended over $300,000 in the development of the system so that now we have a plant of which we are well proud. We have never had an epidemic in the city that could be traced to the water."

"Another thing that has pleased me greatly as I have watched the growth of the city is the swimming pool. I see that it is growing in favor and I am inclined to think we ought to have one or two more swimming pools along Fox river."

"When I came here the city was signing the plans of Mayor Hammel for John street bridge. It had been built for $40,000 without a bond issue and had been paid for out of the current taxes. Since then two other bridges, Lawrence street bridge and Pacific street bridge have been built. Pacific street bridge is the better looking."

Lake Street Bridge

"The time has come when we can praise Mayor Hawes for a new bridge on Lake street. It seems to me we have need for a new bridge on that street. Lake street is the main artery of travel up and down Fox river valley. Wisconsin is becoming more and more a summer resort state for Illinois. One of the remarkable things this summer was the number of foreign cars passing thru Appleton. I think we all agree that the bridge is entirely inadequate to meet the needs of the present time. I think Neenah and Menasha won out against us in that beautiful bridge over there. I offer this suggestion that before Mayor Hawes retires that we praise him for

Walter Jeffries

The local Salvation Army has secured the services of Walter Jeffries, a blind musician and soloist, to conduct services every evening eight o'clock during the next week. He is a graduate of the school for the blind at Lansing, Mich., where he won honors as a student. For several years he has traveled with the Salvation Army as a musician and soloist. He was remembered by many Appleton people as he conducted special services here a few years ago. Other special speakers will be announced from time to time.

years to come as we praised Mayor Hammel years ago."

Need Wider Streets

Mr. Rosebush touched upon the congested condition of College avenue and Oneida streets and the need for wider thoroughfares. He also dwelt upon the various kinds of pavement, favoring concrete on account of its being less slippery than others. He recommended the planting of shrubbery and flowers in front yards and along curbs.

In referring to traction service Mr. Rosebush stated that he noted very little change since his coming here except that the city had lost Appleton Junction service. "In that connection," said the speaker, "I believe that the jitney, so far as it competes with the traction lines should be prohibited for the reason that it pays no income tax, pays no street tax, and impoverishes the traction service."

Prof. Fairchild said that the great purpose of zoning is to conserve value and promote efficiency. He told of an instance where a city put up a tuberculosis hospital and in ten blocks surrounding it the assessments had to be cut in half on account of the people moving away. He also illustrated his point by telling how garment workers invaded Fifth avenue, New York, until the splendid shops moved away and rent went to pieces.

The speaker then came nearer home, calling attention to the tracks and depot of the Wisconsin and Northern Railway company on the north side of west College avenue and said they were bound in time to depreciate the value of homes on the south side of the avenue unless remedial action is taken. He said that nothing could prevent these mistakes being made but zoning.

New to America
Prof. Fairchild said that zoning is old in Europe, but very new with us. Los Angeles, Calif., adopted a comprehensive plan in 1909 and New York, which is doing excellent work and saving property owners thousands of dollars annually, adopted a plan in 1916.

"There are three well defined factory districts in Appleton," said the speaker. "In the first ward in the vicinity of the Coated Paper company, on the east side at Appleton Junction. The latter district promises to become the most important."

Prof. Fairchild suggested that the city save all the district south of the main line of the Northwestern Railway company and west of the business center for a residence district. The Reliance Truck company has invaded the district, but it is no place for it. The territory east of State street and north of College avenue should also be reserved for residences.

Laws are Adequate

"City planning is simply planning for the city," said the speaker, "and the movement is general throughout the country at present. Massachusetts compels every city to have a commission on city plan. Appleton can do nothing in city planning unless the laws of Wisconsin provide for it. A well framed law went into effect in 1917 and the common council of Appleton has passed an ordinance providing for a city planning commission."

The state law and the city ordinance provide for a commission of seven members serving without pay. The duties of the commission lie in three great fields of city planning, public buildings and memorials, the street and park system, and city districting or zoning. The first great duty of the commission is to consider and report to the council its approval or disapproval of the design of any public building or memorial. The second great work is to consider and report on streets, parks and city additions, and the third great phase of city planning is building regulations.

"Our program is: Organization of a city planning commission; the collection of data, impartial and complete, and the preparation of charts and reports with much publicity as the facts are collected; the preparation of a comprehensive plan under expert advice; and the adoption of a plan after public opinion has crystallized around it."

Miss Frieda Boettcher of Kaukauna was an Appleton visitor Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Shoemaker and Miss Crystal Shoemaker, Meade street, are attending the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schneider, New London. Miss Shoemaker will sing a group of songs.

William Smith called on friends in Mackville Sunday.

RED CROSS SEALS HELP NEENAH BOY

Anti-Tuberculosis Association Finds Need for Money is Greater Than Ever.

The September issue of the Crusader of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association contains an interesting account of how eight year old Mitchell, a Neenah boy, was saved from being a life cripple thru the co-operation of the school nurse and the association.

Mitchell limped just a little bit as he marched out of the school gate with the rest of the boys of the third grade. The school nurse called him back and asked him if he had fallen and hurt himself.

"No'm, I ain't hurt none," Mitchell answered in surprise. However the school nurse was not satisfied, and she went to the boy's teacher and asked her how long Mitchell had been limping. The teacher had noticed nothing so the nurse went to see the boy's mother. But she too, had not noticed anything wrong with the boy. He was a little thin, but he hadn't been fat since he was a baby. Yes, his father was all right now. He had been over since he came back from the sanatorium, an "arrested case."

Mitchell was taken to a doctor, who pronounced the boy affected with a tuberculosis hip. The lad was taken to the hospital and it became the school nurse's task to make the parents realize that they must let him go, a task made easier in this case by the father's previous sanatorium experience and his personal knowledge of the need of the right kind of care.

But there was no money in the home for expensive surgical treatment and hospital care. The physician willingly volunteered to give his services, and a public spirited man and his wife, patrons of the Neenah hospital to whom the public health nurse often took her financial worries, had opened the door of the hospital for any children she might send there, so Mitchell was cared for in the endowed bed supported by them.

Because of Mitchell and other children whose underweight showed the need of special care, the school board of Neenah voted an appropriation for the equipment and maintenance of an open air school. Gratifying gains made by the pupils in this school gave new reason for continuing the work of the vacation fresh air camp, which had been a feature of the community health work for several seasons.

The money secured in the annual sale of Red Cross Christmas seals which support the work of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association saved the boy from a life of suffering and dependence even tho not a single cent was spent directly on his cure.

People of Appleton who feel the greatness of the work of the association in the wiping out of the Great White Plague, may help by buying Christmas seals this year as usual. The campaign is under the direction of Appleton Woman's club, and will start on Thanksgiving day. The city's quota this year is 150,000 stamps, and Mrs. George Wetengel has urged that a supreme effort be made to fill the quota.

The Bassia trees of India bear flowers that taste like figs.

BEG PARDON

Due to a typographical error, the number of students in the first grade of the Nicolett school of Kaukauna was stated as 54 instead of 45, in an article in Saturday's issue of the Post-Crescent.

Turkeys have been used in Texas to protect crops from a plague of grasshoppers.

No Rubbing

Perfected for Your Washing Machine

Ajax Naphtha Chips are offered, after months of experiment, as the finally perfected washing machine soap.

The thin, curly, green, wafer-like chip dissolves to the last particle. It produces a thick, profuse, stiff lather which stands up until you are through.

This lather cleanses, most thoroughly, the average soiled clothes. No soaking, no rubbing, no boiling, are required.

It makes the action of your washing machine thoroughly satisfactory. Pure soap plus olive oil, plus naphtha, equals washing machine efficiency.

This new soap is pure soap. It contains no adulterants and no impurities. Because it is all soap its use is an economy, it goes so much farther than other soaps.

Because of its purity, it won't fade colors nor harm fabrics.

Don't let another wash day pass without a package of Ajax Naphtha Flakes.

Remember—no soaking, no rubbing, no boiling, unless you are washing very dirty work clothes.

Ajax and your washing machine will do all the work. You need hardly wet your hands.
